

CONFERENCE MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

Group Number:15

AIM OF OUR PROJECT

- There are various Research and Innovation Institutes across the world that organize annual conferences for academic and research purposes
- All across the globe, people require information about the agenda of a particular conference, the schedule, the venue, and the registration procedure for the same.
- To solve these problems associated with organizing conferences, a website for conference management is software that helps organizations plan and manage events and conferences. There are several reasons why this website can be essential for organizing and managing conferences
